DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regard to claim 1, clear and proper antecedent basis for the “internal passages” (line 7) should be defined. Also in regard to claim 1, it is indefinite as to which “passages” (line 8) Applicant is referring to since a “passage”, a “second passage” and “internal passages” have been previously claimed.

In regard to claim 4, clear and proper antecedent basis for the “internal passages” (line 8) should be defined. Also in regard to claim 4, it is indefinite as to which “passages” (line 9) Applicant is referring to since a “passage”, a “second passage” and “internal passages” have been previously claimed.

In regard to claim 6, clear and proper antecedent basis for the “internal passages” (line 8) should be defined. Also in regard to claim 6, it is indefinite as to which “passages” (line 9) Applicant is referring to since a “passage”, a “second passage” and “internal passages” have been previously claimed.

In regard to claim 8, clear and proper antecedent basis for the “internal passages” (line 8) should be defined. Also in regard to claim 8, it is indefinite as to which “passages” (line 9)

Art Unit: 3771

Applicant is referring to since a "passage", a "second passage" and "internal passages" have been previously claimed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Niermann et al. and Branower references pertain to ventilation systems with associated stopcocks and the Daniellson reference pertains to an infusion system with a stopcock which accommodates an instrument. However, none of the prior art of record, alone or in combination appear to teach an open bronchoscopy oxygenation system and method comprising a combined reservoir for a pressure relief valve and a stopcock with a second passage for receiving an instrument, wherein the stop cock is attached to a passage running from the stopcock allowing for the passage of oxygen, an instrument or fluids, as claimed.

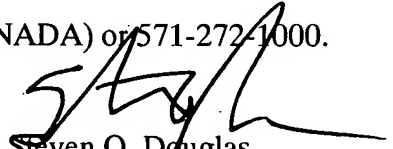

Claims 1-9 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
